DANC 229: Introduction to Dance Summer 2018

Registration begins February 8, 2018

This course satisfies the HAP requirement for the General Education Requirements.

Instructor: Sally Radell

Dates: Session II (July 2-August 8)

Time: Daily, 11:30-12:50

Credit: 3 credit hours

Content: This course is a comprehensive study of dance as an expressive art form, a symbolic language, and an integral aspect of world cultures. Introduction to Dance develops both aesthetic response and critical skills through an analysis of major dance forms, styles, genres, and through exploring the creative process.

Particulars: Course material will be presented through a series of lectures, performance observations, guest speakers, discussions, and dance experiences. The class sessions will be evenly divided between dance classes (hip hop, modern, ballet, and ethnic styles) and non-movement classes. No dance prerequisites or previous experience required.
